The Project

Address: Argalasti

Description: This 3-storey stone house with neoclassical features, is situated in the village of Argalasti, a couple of minutes walk from the central square. Each floor measures 78,90sqm and the land plot incl. the house measures 160,80sqm. The spacious, high ceiling floors provide ample light, with windows on all four sides. The ground floor included a grocery shop along the street front and on the back side were the kitchen, the dining room and the main entrance. Both, the kitchen as well as the dining room have a fireplace. The top floor consists of four equal-sized bedrooms and a marble balcony. The two bedrooms facing east offer uninterrupted views of the opposite hills. The garden at the back of the house measures 80sqm. The property requires complete restoration; a great opportunity to create contemporary, aristocratic spaces. In case you would opt for a creative project like that, my colleagues and I will be happy to assist. NOTE: The last two photos are a product of Artificial Intelligence and show one of many possible versions of the ground floor lay-out.
